CARNIVAL POSTPONED

The weather today has, in many respects, reassured the superstitious that the legends which have surrounded the traditional groundhog from the "time that the mind of man runneth not to the contrary" are not myths for skeptics to juggle with. The wary little beast seemed to know his business yesterday when he emerged for a few seconds and made a hasty retreat to the snuggery from which he had come. He not only avoided by this precautionary measure a blizzard, with the gale blowing forty miles an hour, but escaped the coldest weather that has been experienced hereabouts since Jack Frost made his appearance on the stage of winter. If the little burrowing animal that helps pheric changes is wise he will remain in his hole for the traditional forty days, as the prognosticators of things thermometrical promise that the worst is yet to come.

Notwithstanding the prediction of more snow for yesterday, the precipitation took the form of a heavy rain during the early morning hours, and before the afternoon was spent a blizzard made its appearance. characterized alike for its unexpectedness and severity. All through the night the wind "blew great guns," rattling the win-dows and signs with terrific force and doing material damage in many places. In some parks of the city trees were blown down, and the patrol systems of several of the police stations were damaged to such an police stations were damaged to such an extent that it was impossible for the men to report their regular hourly calls. The telegraph wires and poles also suffered, especially in the vicinity of Anacostia bridge, Sherman and Whitney avenues in the northwest, and on Congress Heights.

The wind seemed to blow in strongly diversions of the strong with the strong of the strong with the strong of the strong of

According to the weather bureau the high winds will continue for several days, although not with the same force that char-acterized their performances of last night. The weather will also continue to get colder until tomorrow, when, according to the prediction, there will be more snow.
Owing to the cold weather and the hard frozen condition of the snow the sleighing carnival arranged for this afternoon and evening has been indefinitely postponed. But few sleighs were to be seen on the avenue and other principal thoroughfares of the city today, and there was almost a dearth of sleighers yesterday, owing to the rain and slush

Attorney General Versus Gen. Miles. Those who happened to be on the White Lot drive about 4 o'clock in the afternoon were well repaid for braving the elements, as they witnessed a spirited "brush" around the space between Attorney General Knox and Lieut. Gen. Miles. Both were in single cutters. Mr. Knox drove a bay horse and the head of the army sped behind a chestnut mare. The race hap-pened by accident, but when the general passed the cabinet officer he smiled an invitation over his shoulder. In a moment the cutters were abreast and passing everything else on runners. They went twice around the oval neck and neck, when the

The season for the birds in this city does not expire until the 15th of March, while in the counties of Maryland and Virginia different dates are fixed for the close. In some counties the shooting of quail is prohibited after the middle of December, while in other counties it ends the middle of March.

Some Accidents. Mrs. Catherine Barber, sixty-five years old, fell on the sidewalk in front of 1002 New Hampshire avenue northwest yesterday morning. Her left arm was fractured and she was also injured about the head. The injured woman was removed to her home, No. 906 26th street, by the police. Miss Maude Blaine of Capitol Hill, while sleighing Friday evening, had a narrow escape in an accident. The horse became unmanageable about 9th and I streets, and at 9th and F streets collided with a car. Both occupants were thrown from the sleigh, but neither was seriously injured.

Bar Association Dissatisfied With Assignment of Justices of Peace. The Bar Association of the District of Columbia, through a committee consisting of Messrs. Benjamin F. Leighton, chairman; A. S. Worthington, John Ridout, Michael J. Colbert and Wharton E. Lester, is taking steps to bring about a new arrangement of districts, so far as the as-signment of justices of the peace is concerned. The lawyers have found that it is a matter of decided inconvenience to have the majority of the justices located at a distance from the downtown section of the city. Several of the ten local magistrates have their offices in the county beyond the city limits, and, for instance, an attorney who desires a writ of attachment late in the afternoon is compelled to exert himself to an unusual degree in order to obtain the same and have it served

The committee of the Bar Association has practically agreed to recommend that one justice be assigned to Georgetown and that the remainder of the District be divided so as to have a portion of each subdistrict somewhere in the vicinity of the city hall, having in view the locating of the offices of nine of the justices near the court house. When its suggestions are in proper form the Bar Association will petition the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to redistrict the city to the end outlined. The committee of the Bar Association has

SITE FOR POLICE BUILDING. Condemnation to Secure Ground for

The District Commissioners have decided to continue the condemnation proceedings recently instituted for the purpose of securing a site on the Tenleytown road for a subpolice station, the land in question being owned in part by Christian Heurich. S street northwest between 13th and 14th streets—Patrick J. Farrell et ux. to Joseph S. Justh, part original lots 7 and 8, square ers subsequent to the institution of the condemnation proceedings at a small price provided the proceedings were stopped. The Commissioners accepted the offer with the understanding that they could secure enough of an adjoining tract owned by Mrs. M. E. French to make up the necessary area. It has now been ascertained that the desired additional land cannot be secured without taking all of the front of Mrs. French's property, thus cutting her off from access to the back part of her land, which consists of about two acres.

The matter has been referred to the city solicitor as to the proper course of action in regard to annulling the former order and continuing the proceedings. Begging Under False Pretenses. "This man had his arm in a sling last night and was begging on New Jersey avenue northwest," a policeman informed Judge Scott when Thomas Barnes, twentyfive years of age, was arraigned on a morning. "His arm was examined at the station house and found to be in good condition," the officer added. Barnes made no statement, but the court mposed a fine of $40. In case the defendant fails to pay he will have to stay in vagrancy charge in the Police Court this

TURNED OUT TRUE.

"At a dinner party a number of years ago a physician made this statement, 'Coffee drinking is esponsible for more ills than any other one thing believe it.'

"Neither would I believe him, but continued to I became aware of the fact that I was frequently lying awake parly all night without any apparent cason, and the morning found me tired out and at the base of the brain and severe pressure at my heart. My outside work was given up, for I could hardly bear the little fatigue of the day. 'Nervous prostration brought on by overwork,' the doctor said. I thought of the words of old Dr. Bagley, 'Coffee is the poison that is resp etc., etc.

"I had heard of Postum Food Coffee, and determined to try it. The first cup was so weak and flat that it was not fit to drink. The next time it was prepared I looked after it myself to see that the directions were followed properly. The result was a revelation; I found it a delicious beverage. "The cure was not wrought in a day, but little by little my nerves became strong, the pain ceased and again I could sleep like a tired child.
